Dear Sir,

W. Engelmann, when staying here, told me, that by your mediation I could get into possession of Mr Wright's Cuba plants: the fact is, that I am engaged in writing on the West Indian Flora and that therefore a complete set of Wright's collection is highly desirable. Perhaps under great exceptional conditions of sale, if I engaged myself to send him the names of all ~~specimens~~ ^{specimens}, which I could probably effectuate in a short space of time. At all events I take the liberty of authorizing you, my dear Sir, to send - either from the United States or directly from Cuba - all ^{numbers} ~~plants~~ ^{plants} with the ^{desired} content and sections for distribution.

It is of a particular interest, that Mr Wright's plants may come over as soon as possible: therefore I wish them to be sent by steamer, and under my own attention. Mr Wright might write me directly his wishes, and to what place I had to send the money.

My catalogue of Guadeloupe plants is nearly finished in printing, and shortly I shall send you a copy.

Last spring I sent you by way of Hamburg ~~with~~ packet-boat a set of my Panama - duplicates (without letter), which I hope had safely come into your hands.

The visit of Dr. Engelmann was highly grateful to me and only of too short a duration. He left just now Justin and is going to Paris and London. I hope that our literary intercourse may in the same way be followed by personal acquaint.

Have, if again you come to our old continent. Do not forget, if you favour me with a few lines, to mention, whether our friend's health is improving, which was, I am afraid, in a bad state.
Believe me, my dear Sir, Yours very sincerely and faithfully
A. Griseb.
